4 CRITICAL SOCIAL RESEARCH. Harvey (1990) distinguishes critical social research as follows
Critical social research is underpinned by a critical-dialectical perspective which attempts to dig beneath the surface of historically specific oppressive social structures. This is contrasted with positivistic concerns to discover the factors that cause observed phenomena or to build grand theoretical edifices and with phenomenological attempts to interpret the meanings of social actors or ...

Critical Strategies For Social Research By William K Carroll

The objective of this exercise is to identify the areas where improvement can be made in the study and also understand the limitations of an empirical research study. The Research Methodology Critical Analysis report is also aiming to provide an explanation for the weaknesses which has been identified in the empirical study. In this report the emphasis of the researcher is not on judging the quality of the study but to highlight only those points which has a scope for improvement and changes.
