By Sue Gerhardt - The Selfish Society: How We All Forgot ...

We have come to inhabit a culture of selfish individualism which has confused material well-being with happiness. As society became bigger and more competitive, working life was cut off from child-rearing and the new economics ignored people's emotional needs. We have lived with this culture so long that it is hard to imagine it being any different.

I think people are mainly selfish due to two things. 1) Nobody trusts anyone anymore b/c of all the horror stories. Everyone feels the need to fend for themselves. 2) We are taught from a young age to be competitive. You need to be the best no matter who you step on to get there. It's sad, but it's becoming the way of the world! Reply
